We will always love one another. Even though you picked on us all, "what's that? then run your finger to my nose", gave us all a hard time, "hey! you dropped your pocket", we all were so lucky to have known you , "me backing up and you smack your door! Give me a heart attck." Thank you for always being there and being a friend to the end. I love you John and always will . One day I'll see you again and I hope that we get to have another old fashion belt fight.
