I don't know where to begin. I met Sandy Cordell 32 years ago and I lost touch with her and her family. I always thought about everyone. I know your crazy butt is looking down on Me and saying girl , You got this. You are loved so many and I miss you. RIP my friend

—Carolyn Lawhon

Sweet Sandy, I am praising that you are no longer in pain. Entering Glory was what He wanted for you! But, until I see you again, I'll miss you. You were always such an advocate for cats and dogs. You were a welcomed fixture and friend at the station where we met.. oh, so many years ago! I remember when you were battling cancer about 15 years ago. You never let it slow you down. I'm praying for your family, as well as all who loved you. Will see you again one day, when I enter Glory. Cindy Byas
